

25 Years Ago

A lone rider comes galloping out to your ranch. She tells you that her husband is holed up in the store and under attack by some desperados, lead by Murphy, a man you should've killed a long time ago. After you hear her out, she asks you what you plan to do. You respond "What I should've done 25 years ago!"

Pistols loaded with 5 rounds each, hammer's on an empty chamber and holstered.
Shotgun held at port arms, minimum of 6 rounds to be loaded from your person.

When ready, shooter says "What I should've done 25 years ago!" After the buzzer, shooter shoots the plates. All must fall. After, shotgun is staged on the haybale, action empty and open. Shooter then engages the pistol targets in the order presented above.