Narrative & Instructions

You and Antelope Bob have just penned the herd up a box canyon when Antelope Bob goes to check on the longhorns. He's been gone pretty long and you here a twig snap in the darkness. Holding the lantern over your head (or with hand and arm outstretched as level as possible for physically challenged) the shooter yells, "Is that you, Antelope Bob?" Hot lead is your only reply, and you get to answering. The lantern must be replaced on the stand before engaging targets. 10 second penalty if lantern falls to ground.

At the buzzer, shooter picks up rifle and sweeps rifle targets 3 times left to right. Shooter replaces rifle with action open on hay bale/stand, then draws first pistol and sweeps targets left to right, drawing the second pistol to complete sweeping the targets. Shooter reloads one pistol with one round and shoots middle rifle target one time. (Pistol may be reloaded anytime after firing first shot from second pistol.)
